JUDGES NAMED PATRICIA KELLY

There are no judges named Patricia Kelly who are not connected to an account already. If this is in error, as your team administrator or the tournament director to link your email to your judge record. Or, search for a different name:

Do NOT link your accounts to your school's other judges, etc. That will prevent them from accessing online ballots, getting texts, or being contacted by tournaments.

If you want to get text/updates for one of your team's judges, you should instead sign up on the tournament's online updates page.

If your name on the judge record isn't spelled exactly as it is on your account, the system may not have found you. Computers can't read nicknames, etc. If so, search alternate spellings of your name below to link.

STANDING CONFLICTS

These conflicts are meant to reflect a personal or professional relationship which means it is unfair for you to judge the other person; such as a relative, or a former student. Do not use conflicts against debaters you simply do not like as judges.

These conflicts work to prevent one party from being judged by the other. They will not prevent two entries from competing against one another, which requires manual intervention. Contact your tournament's officials if the latter situation arises.

Conflicts entered on Tabroom.com are not confidential.

Any information you enter onto Tabroom is viewable by third parties, including the people you are conflicting. If you have a conflict (or for that matter, any other information) you wish to keep confidential, you should contact the tournament officials directly instead of entering it here.

I'm a parent volunteer judge in my 6th year, and I'm so impressed by the time and effort students put into Speech and Debate. I feel fortunate to have the opportunity to see the competitors in action!

PFD:

As PFD is meant to be understood by a lay judge, please use clear delivery, everyday language, straightforward organization and credible evidence.

Please speak at an understandable pace. If you're speaking too quickly during an in-person round, I'll put down my pen as a sign that I can't understand what you're saying. In virtual competitions, I will place my hand near my ear to signal my inability to understand you at that pace. In both instances I will no longer be able to flow so those arguments will be dropped.

Don't overwhelm your case with numerous sources but rather select the best evidence to support your argument. Use reputable, unbiased sources and succinctly connect all evidence back to your contentions. If excessive time is spent trying to produce requested evidence, I will verbally warn you that I will soon begin to run prep time.

Privacy

Tabroom.com is a website run by the National Speech and Debate Association. Circuit officials and tournament directors are able to see registering coaches' & judges' contact info — but cannot see competitor contact info or contact individual competitors directly.

Tabroom staff and NSDA officials can see any contact information to operate the site. But we will never sell or give away your contact information to anyone else without your consent.

Active Tabroom Login Sessions

If any of these sessions seem unfamiliar, the red X will log that device out. Change your password if the problem persists.

CELL PROVIDER: Tabroom needs to know this in order to send you text message alerts of assignments & results. If you set it to the wrong provider you won't get text blasts. Set to "Landline/Do Not Text Me" if you only want email alerts. Note that some tournaments may require you have a phone number listed to register as a judge.

PRONOUNS: These pronouns will be sent to judges and competitors in your section/debate via text message and emails as part of assignment blasts. Pronouns also will appear on judges' online or printed ballots. They will NOT appear on the public Tabroom.com website either to tournament/tab staff or on the public schematics/pairings/entry lists.

Please leave blank if you do not consent to these pronouns being disclosed to the competitors and judges in the rounds you are competing or judging in, or anyone who might be subscribed to their text/email notifications.

*NO EMAILS: This setting will prevent you from getting ANY tournament and circuit announcement emails. If you're not active anymore, that's fine, but otherwise you'll almost certainly miss something important by checking this box.

If another coach has taken over your program, you should go to your home screen, add them to the chapter's access tab, and remove yourself.
